

NEIGHBORHOODS

Copenhagen is awesome, and we want you to enjoy all of the fantastic food, drinks, and culture during your stay. You will have evenings off to explore, but we recommend arriving a day or two in advance to make yourself comfortable and get acquainted with the city before we kick things off. On the next few pages you'll find maps and suggestions from the MAD Team ranging from cultural highlights to hidden gems. These are all places we visit ourselves when we want to relax, unwind, or cut loose.

Refshaleøen: This rapidly evolving area of Copenhagen is the old shipyard and naval base, the birthplace and stage for MAD Symposium, and home to the MAD headquarters. Recently, the peninsula has been in constant development. We recommend checking out Lille Bakery, La Banchina, and Copenhagen Contemporary Amager: Technically an island, not a suburb, its northern tip (known locally as “Ama”) is a quiet residential area with bridges linking to Christianshavn and Refshaleøen. For a swim or stroll, go to the modern harbor development Islands Brygge. Sights to see: the wild landscape of Amager Fælled, Amager Strandpark (the beach), and Helgoland (a traditional bathhouse on the sea from 1913 open to everyone during the summer months).

Christianshavn: An old residential neighborhood lined with canals and colorful houses. Sights to see: Our Savior's Church (Vår Frelzers Kirke)—a gold-spired baroque church—and the intriguing Freetown Christiania. Try Rufino's delicious pasta if you're in the area, get a scoop from Alice, or enjoy a harborside beer and schnitzel at Barr.

Inner City (Indre By): This is the Old Town of Copenhagen. Think small streets, alleyways, and historic squares. The main (shopping) streets are Strøget and Købmagergade. Sights to see: Parliament (Christiansborg) and the Round Tower (Rundetårn). You will find the hidden Seks, our favorite wine bar Den Vandrette, and one of our favorite burger stands, Gasoline Grill.

Østerbro: An old, bourgeois residential neighborhood. Among other things you'll find here is Copenhagen's largest park, Fælledparken. Interesting streets include Østerbrogade, the stretch closest to the Lakes (Søerne) and Nordre Frihavnsgade. Sights to see: Kastellet (an old military fortress) and Svanemøllen Beach.

Nørrebro: This area is often described as the most diverse part of Copenhagen and rated one of the best neighborhoods in the world. Take a walk around the Lakes or sample the various antique shops, cafes, and Danish bodegas (bars). The most interesting streets are Jægersborggade, Stefansgade, Griffenfeldsgade, and Blågårdsgade. Swing by Bæst for a pizza, Dzidra for a 'mille crepe', or check out Pompette for affordable natural wines.

Vesterbro: This area is full of cafes, bars, galleries, music venues, and restaurants. The main streets are Istedgade, Vesterbrogade, and Sønder Boulevard. Sights to see: the Meatpacking District (Kødbyen), where you can enjoy a coffee at Prolog or feast on seafood at Fiskebaren, ending the night at Åben Brewery.

Frederiksberg: This green and luxurious enclave is home to some of the city's most beautiful avenues and gardens. A morning walk or afternoon picnic in the spacious meadows of Frederiksberg Have is only made better by a snack from Aurens Deli in hand. Check out Værnedamsvej, a street packed with European charm and one of the world's greatest liquor stores, Juul's Vin & Spiritus.

NØRREBRO

RESTAURANTS & GO SEE'S

Silberbauers Bistro

The newest bistro in town—a most welcome casual French addition.

Baka d'busk

Tasty vegetarian cooking that is loose, loud, louche, and kind of lovely—classic Nørrebro.

The Lakes

Ideal for a morning run or nighttime stroll. Don't miss the people-watching along Dronning Louises Bridge on a sunny day.

Pompette & Poulette

These sister venues are home to one of the city's deepest and cheapest wine cellars and the curiously delicious mapo tofu sandwich.

Assistens Kirkegård

Escape to this quiet and historic cemetery with a book or a beer. Danes don't mind a drink with the famous dead.

Gården og Gaden

Feels like a dive bar, tastes a lot better.

Diamond Slice

New York-style pizza slices, the best you will taste in town.

Andra

Eclectic corner eatery that runs from morning to night and has something for everyone.
